

Preserve freedom of speech in America, stop the consolidation of the media!

Jonathan Rintels, Executive Director of the Center for the Creative Community said:

"Research indicates most Americans receive the vast majority of their information regarding democracy, politics, values, history, and culture from entertainment programming on television. As a result, the FCC must take steps to promote on television the multiplicity of voices that the Supreme Court says are a government interest of the highest order under the First Amendments protection of free expression."
